They will also be featured on the security industry leading website, security-today.com, and will be highlighted in the December 2015 issue of Security Products magazine. Entries are showcased in the September 2015 issue of Security Products magazine. The magazine is distributed to more than 65,000* subscribers monthly as well as at key industry trade events such as ASIS, and its website is visited by thousands of security professionals every week.

“The New Product of the Year contest gives us a terrific sampling of security solutions available now,” said Ralph C. Jensen, editor in chief of Security Products magazine. “Our juried judges do an excellent job of compiling and assigning a score for each entry. I applaud those who entered this year for introducing the best of the best security systems. It is always exciting to view the entries and then release information about the winning entries. However, it should be noted that all new products are important and might be able to fit into your security scheme.”

Information about the 2016 Security Products New Product of the Year awards will be available at security-today.com in the spring of 2016.
